Grab some friends and make up a table of 6 or just come along and meet new friends.

All funds raised go towards research into finding a cure for MND. This is my way of supporting my cousin, Alaine's wishes, to “help find a cure”. Alaine is 43yrs old and continues her brave fight with MND, a year on from the 18 months her doctors gave her to survive. Katrina Caton

Facts about MND:

- It is a progressive, terminal neurological disease.
- There is no known cure and no effective treatment.
- Each day in Australia, two people are diagnosed with it, and two people die from it.
- Sufferers progressively lose the use of their limbs, ability to speak, swallow and breathe, while their mind and senses usually remain intact.
- The average life expectancy is 27 months.
- An estimated 1,900 Australians have MND
- For every person diagnosed, it is estimated that a further 14 family members & friends will live with the effect of MND forever.
